In summer 2019, the college began preparation for the development of the 2020-2025 Strategic Plan, appointing 70 members of the campus community to 8 taskforces and a steering committee to guide the work.

In Fall 2020, we launched the planning process with a campus townhall and a series of campus workshops, involving students, alumni, and community partners.

Taskforces went to work developing initial goals, objectives, and strategies using input from the campus community, and resulting in a 46-page draft Strategic Plan document.

In early spring, the Steering Committee charged a small working group to review the draft plan and develop a synthesized document that will clarify the goals and objectives of the draft plan. The group submitted a draft report in mid-February, which consolidated and refined the goals and objectives of the larger document.

In the ensuing weeks since we transitioned to working remotely as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic, we continued to work on the document to further refine the goals and objectives and align the draft plan with the changing health and fiscal landscape facing higher education and the nation.
